Fire is 100 percent contained

By Sally Douglas

With the 100 percent containment of the Lexington fire, that wracked a $7 million dollar property loss, 4,500 residents have returned to their homes to set to the task of repairs, cleaning smoke-stained walls and removing ashes.

Some 13,800 acres, 24 homes, five mobile homes and one garage were ravished in last week's blaze. Full fire control is expected by 6 p.m. Saturday, July 20, said Angelo Chancellor, fire inspector for the Central Fire Protection District. The fire fighting cost as of Monday was nearly $1.75 million dollars.

Control was listed at 70 percent on Monday. Containment is when a full fire line, a bulldozed strip, encircles the fire and officials are confident that the fire won't jump that line. Control is when the fire is put out to the degree that fire officials don't believe anything significant is still smoldering.

"Residents should not be alarmed because they may see smoke or smoldering for up to two weeks," Chancellor said. "You might see one tree smoking and all the other trees throughout an acre are fine. Who knows why that one tree still smokes? It may be diseased or old," Chancellor said.

The arson investigation was beefed up yesterday, as officials met to discuss strategy intended to lead to the arrest of the arsonists.

At the meeting were representatives of CDF, the state fire marshal's office, Central Fire Protection District, the Los Gatos police department and the Santa Clara County district attorney's office.

An arson hotline that guarantees anonymity has been established at (916) 427-4341 for people to give information and make inquiries. Any information leading to the arrest and conviction of the arsonist or arsonists is eligible for a $10,000 reward from the state of California, a $5,000 reward from CDF and a $500 reward from Central Fire Protection District.

Relief agency spokesmen say there's a strong chance that the President will declare the area eligible for national emergencies monies.

In the interim, the Red Cross on Friday opened a service center at the Jewish Community Center on Oka Road (356-4164). People whose homes are destroyed or damaged may confer with a Red Cross worker. The agency will provide short term assistance — hotel rooms, food and clothing for those in need. The Los Gatos Chamber of Commerce turned its three-page housing list over to Red Cross workers.

"We've begun to take names of who needs what and hook them up with the private agencies," said Rex Painter, Red Cross director of emergency services. "The Menonites and the National Baptist Churches have been known to build a solid wood house in three or four days."

Sunday afternoon trees were still flaming below Holy City, according to Holy City resident Rebecca Dawson. "We're glad it's over, but we'll be even more happy when it's really all over and there are no more smoldering trees and grasses."

Monday morning was the first time that the air was not smokey on awakening, Dawson said. "I'm just busy cleaning. There's a coating of ash on everything."

About 300 firefighters were sent home from the Lexington Reservoir area Sunday, leaving 1,125 from a high of 2,012 to work on mopping-up operations, Chancellor said. Most of these remaining firefighters are concentrating on preventing smoldering brush and trees from turning into new hot spots.

According to Chancellor, the CDF fire crews will patrol the area through the end of this week, but Central Fire Protection district crews will keep a close watch for several weeks.

In some parts of the fire line, cold trailing was done to prevent the fire's spread. Cold trailing is the removal by hand of dry grass, leaves and roots down to the mineral soil, Chancellor said.

Convicts play a role in fighting fire in hills

By Keith Ross

They walked up to the food line, just like the others. If not for their bright orange protective suits, you could hardly distinguish them from the rest of the firefighters. And yet, there was no mistaking who the man at the rear of the pack was. His watchful eyes, like search lamps, twisting right, and then left, were definitely those of a correction officer.

A large crew of inmates from the minimum security Black Mountain Correction Facility in Sonoma County arrived in Los Gatos Monday to help combat the fire in the Santa Cruz Mountains which at that point was burning wildly out of control.

Inmates state-wide are pressed into duty as firefighters as part of a special program. "Prisons are overcrowded, we have to get people who are trustworthy out," said Fredrick Langley, a correction officer from Eureka. "Prisoners who participate in this program leave with a sense of accomplishment, instead of sitting in a cell thinking of ways to cause trouble."

Prisoners are selected on the basis of a point system, geared towards evaluating low-risk individuals. "As long as they don't have any history of sex crimes, murder one, arson, escapes and a low point total, they are considered for participation," Langley said.

The prisoners who are selected for "camp" are placed in possibly the hardest fire fighting job, the hand crews, Langley noted. "You have bulldozers cutting fire lines, and the terrain gets so steep that the bulldozers can't do it. That is when they get hand crews in there," he explained.

Though participation in the camp is mandatory for all the men selected, reaction to being sent off to the fires varies. "I wanted to be in it," said Rod, a 38-year-old inmate with nine months left on a forgery-burglary conviction. "I wanted to get away from prison to get more privileges. It is a more relaxed lifestyle. Other guys dread coming out here."

The reaction of non-inmate fellow firefighters seemed uniformly positive. "They fight like troopers. They are the hardest group of workers around," said Terry Brown, Middleton Fire Department assistant chief.

TREAT YOURSELF TO MUSIC AND TALENT!

GLENN YARBOROUGH "sails back" to Los Altos by way of THE CELLAR on El Camino. Management is proud to announce his engagement on Monday and Tuesday, July 22 and 23. Yarbrough will sing his romantic ballads and folk songs to a dinner show crowd at THE CELLAR. I love this idea! Dinner shows are my passion! So much nicer than sitting around show-style, and also THE CELLAR'S dinners are par excellent, folks! Take my advice, and reserve now at (415) 964-0220. Incidentally, just in case your memory has slipped just a mite, Glenn Yarbrough was the founder of the Limelighters during the folk era of the early sixties and he's recorded more than 54 albums. So, let's all get together at THE CELLAR this July 22 and 23!! ...

How many of you are fans of Marv Plotkin and his Dixie Peaches? Did you know that they perform every second, fourth and fifth Sunday at the VILLAGE RETREAT from 5 until 9 p.m.? AND, folks, guess who's part of his "Peaches"? None other than that darling dark n' daring Hank Uribe on drums! AND, that handsome hunk, Marty Mann on the ivories! Add the talents of Lou Keizer and Ed Zimbrik on horns (along with Marv, of course) and you hear a fantastic bunch of music! VILLAGE RETREAT is at 7028 Santa Teresa Boulevard, San Jose. The Dixie Peaches were big, big hits last Sunday at THE GARDEN CITY, where the talented pianist Smith Dobson and the oh-so-popular Dave Lario joined the group, with Joe Davis on trombone and Dave Bendickeit, horn. Gosh, these fellas are so much fun. Why don't you catch them soon? Incidentally, you can hear Marv and his pianist perform every Tuesday through Saturday at DELMONICO'S in Menlo Park ...

OTHER ENTERTAINMENT:

OLD TOWN in Los Gatos continues to offer weekend entertainment in their outdoor amphitheater. Best of all, diners at the very new "hit" restaurant, CALIFORNIA CAFE BAR & GRILL, may enjoy this entertainment since their veranda tables overlook the amphitheater. "Indigo" is a fine jazz group who will perform this Saturday, the 20th, while everybody's favorite Irish Folk group, "Shanachie," performs on Sunday, the 21st. Both are top acts and I highly recommend you stop by and ENJOY! No charge here either ... Dennis White and his group, the "Major & Minor" continue to perform at CHEZ LOUIS French restaurant on El Camino, Palo Alto. Remember, folks, this used to be the inveterate LOMMIES or to be more specific, L'OMELLETES. The old fireplace has been removed (sniff), but the show-room/lounge is probably better and bigger than before. You should try it and say hello to my old friend Louis Borel, owner and excellent chef. Of course, he has a new French import in the kitchen that I hear tell is cooking up some fine fancy vittles ... Here's another popular favorite! "Where's Mary Lou & Paul?" everybody asks me. Well, folks and fans, they are still playing and singing up a storm at SCOTTY CAMPBELL'S in Atherton. The Snaideckis have refurbished the big party/dance room where they perform, so if you're in to dancing and having fun, here's the spot to visit! Mary Lou & Paul perform every Friday and Saturday night plus on Sundays from 6-10 p.m. Stop by and say Hi ... Gifted Bob MacFayden continues to please his piano bar customers at MAC'S in Los Altos. This is without a doubt one of the busiest and most popular of bars ... another busy piano bar is manned by pretty Margie Binn at THE PRIME RIB INN, Palo Alto. Margie keeps a record of songs with their "respective keys" for all her old and new customers. Gosh, she's a neat gal — I remember her when she used to bring in the crowds at the old Rick's

Little Corner (now gone). With a terrific personality like hers, no wonder she coaxes all her customers to take the "mike" and sing, including "yours truly." Yes, Margie started my "later years" singing career (Ha) — good thing I quit that nonsense. But it is so much fun! ... "Lindy Gravelle," another great performer, can be enjoyed at MAIN STREET in Los Altos every Friday night, at THE CATS on Saturdays and at PAUL & EDDIES on Thursdays. She has a great voice and leans toward the Country/Western style. She just returned from Nashville where she taped new songs, some of which she composed herself. This gal is going places, watch and see! ...

There are many other musical presentations this summer; here's just a thumbnail sketch: Free Friday afternoon and evening concerts at PIER 39 — listen and dance to Western music ... On Sunday, July 21, that big jazz band "Full Faith & Credit" will perform at the REGENT CAFE on Clement Street, San Francisco with cover door charge ... STANFORD JAZZ WORKSHOP and JAZZ LECTURE SERIES, where musicians talk about jazz — July 25 in Campbell Auditorium, $5 ...

On the comedy scene, you can't beat ROOSTER T. FEATHERS for comedy and dancing — formerly The Country Store, open six nights a week with top comedians — national and local. Cover charge is $4 weekdays and $6 on Friday & Saturday. I understand that live rock 'n' roll will be added later in the year — watch for it! ... KEYSTONE in Palo Alto always has a fine lineup of talent, such as on Saturday, July 20, when "Soft White Underbelly" performs — you'd better catch that and report back to me! ... If you're into the oldies but goodies, there's nothing like a visit to THE ECHO at Miramonte and Foothill Boulevard, where you'll find those two old smoothies, "Jim Murphy and Clay Lundrum" giving forth with the sweetest music this side of a 1940's hop. Their fans dance up a storm every Wednesday through Saturday nights — non-stop! Fun!

SUMMER DAZE! DINING WEIGHS!

It's hot and sultry as I bang on this typewriter, but then that's better than a mid-winter wet and cold spell — our weatherman just can't win! However, diners win big when they saunter into GALANO'S intimate restaurant on Hollenbeck in Sunnyvale. Just wait until they taste the delicious Abalone Calamari Maitre d'hotel or the Calamari Saute ala Galano! Whichever style one chooses, the Calamari at GALANO'S is so much like true Abalone that I dare you to know the difference. Of course, don't forget that dining is all the more festive since Mike opened his new bar/lounge (to be celebrated in a big way during the month of August, folks, so watch for this announcement)! ... Here's another winner! MAC'S in Los Altos doesn't need any introduction to you, I'm sure; however, after you try some of the entrees on their new updated menu, you'll become a "born-again" MAC'S fan. Both old and new customers appreciate MAC'S tradition of fine food, fine hospitality and warm, friendly ambience. MAC'S has been a favorite since it started as a bona fide tea room way back in 1938, and it's still just as dependable. Oh, yes, try their nightly complete dinner specials served Monday through Thursday for only $9.75. You'll receive both soup and salad, entree, potato, fresh vegetable, coffee and sherbet. AND, folks, you'll be served by waitresses who have been there for years, such as perky Ann Larkin. Doesn't that gal ever stop running? And what kind of "youth" pill does she take? I'd like a batch! ...

Movie review

'St. Elmo's' — low IQ ensemble

By Larry Englemann

"ST. ELMO'S FIRE" is the latest and by far the worst Hollywood effort to capitalize on the ensemble-approach to filmmaking that was adopted so successfully in "The Big Chill" a couple of years ago.

"The Breakfast Club" was a sort of adolescent "Little Chill" motion picture and it was not without its charms. "Windy City" was a "Dumb Chill" film that was without brains. And now there is "St. Elmo's Fire," a story of seven people whose IQs total about 110.

The only chilling thing about this picture is the script. Not a vagrant thought ever finds its way into the unceasing babble of the seven college graduates whose first-year agonies out in "the real world" are detailed in painful detail.

The collective stories of these seven brainless wonders might comprise the perfect plot for a soap opera entitled "As the Stomach Turns."

Joel Schumacher and Carl Kurlander wrote "St. Elmo's Fire." The casting for the picture was surely done by a computer. Each of the seven performers in the picture has made at least one promising appearance in an earlier picture. Andrew McCarthy, Emilio Estevez, Judd Nelson and Rob Lowe have all in one way or another wormed their way into the hearts of the publishers and the purchasers of teen heart-throb magazines. Mare Winningham, Demi Moore and Ally Sheedy have all also been profiled in People and other journals of pop celebrity-hood.

WHAT IS AMAZING about these seven adolescents is that any shred of talent demonstrated previously has eluded them completely in this picture. Asked to play people about their own ages, the four young men and young women in this picture appear to be totally at a loss.

One is always aware that they are acting, posing, strutting, performing, faking it. It is, in fact, difficult to pick out the most awful role in this film since each individual role and performance has so much that can be said against it.

McCarthy's cliché-riddled portrayal of a young journalist who wants to write about "the meaning of life," and then actually does author a piece with that title, is downright laughable. Estevez, on the other hand, plays a waiter who seems permanently attached to an apron around his waist.

Ally Sheedy wants a career before she marries, but never gives the slightest hint as to what that career might be. Nelson plays a young political idealist who becomes a Republican — a real critical turning point in the picture.

"St. Elmo's Fire" goes wrong right from the opening scene in which an intoxicated Rob Lowe is arrested for drunk driving after totaling his girlfriend's car. During the remainder of the picture, he is never called to task for the drunk driving. He never goes to court, never pays a ticket, never goes to jail, never gives it a second thought. Nor does anyone else in the picture.

ALL SEVEN OF THESE people clearly passed through four years of college without learning anything. Their talk is on a 10th grade level. And perhaps that is the real problem in this picture. These seven people should have all been in "The Breakfast Club" — in fact Estevez and Sheedy were. Their philosophizing and agonizing about life's injustices are more in tune with what someone 15 or 16 might mutter after three or four beers.

There are no redeeming qualities to this picture. Writer and director Schumacher simply took four chattering pop images of idealized well-scrubbed American youth, had them run around and try to act like real people, and failed monumentally.

This film seems on another level to be about seven people whose brains were dissolved during a four-year stint in college. Upon graduation, in place of brains they have acquired enormous egos.

Winetaster

Venerable Inglenook Vineyards still producing fine wines

By Mary Lester

INGLENOOK VINEYARDS in Napa Valley has been around for 106 years. The old stone winery remains besides many other original, turn-of-the-century buildings.

Anyone interested in wine awards will, with very little effort, discover that Inglenook has won hundreds over the past century. Possibly the only period of its illustrious history where there was a slowdown in quality was during the 1960s. By the mid-1970s, however, new equipment and the latest methods of winemaking — in keeping with today's expected product — had been introduced and the wines were showing it.

For the past 12 years, I have been keeping a watch on the overall wine quality of Inglenook and have been quite pleased with its consistent improvement.

Recently, I did a tasting at Inglenook with winemaker John Richburg, who let me do the sampling and then answered my questions. Every one of the 12 wines I had I found to be in at least the "B" bracket, and several of them earned "A" ratings as well. Plus, the wines are ALL reasonably priced.

The 1984 Chenin Blanc of Inglenook is a perfect wine for two kinds of drinkers: beginners and wine buffs. At 1 percent residual sugar, the wine has a refreshing taste and a "turn-on" aroma that is beautiful. The high acid makes this wine seem drier. This is bound to be a Chenin Blanc winner. $5.50.

THE 1984 SAUVIGNON Blanc is newly released. The color is 10-K gold, the aroma is delightful, the wine is full-flavored and so nicely balanced with its components that no particular characteristic predominates. A nice, nice Sauvignon Blanc and, at $7.50, it's an excellent buy.

By all means, Zinfandel fans should rush to buy a bottle of Inglenook 1981. The color is deep purple-garnet. There is a lot of depth in the complex fruit-berry flavor of this wine, which I consider one of the best red wine buys in California. $7.50.

We compared the 1981 Estate Bottled Cabernet Sauvignon. The wines reflected the difference in weather: '80 was cool and damp while the '81 growing season was not and there was an early summer.

The '81 Estate Cab has good fruit, color, body, depth and aroma. Also, a pleasant cut-off after you swallow.

Good for drinking now, but it should be at its best by 1989-90 and hold well for 15 more years. $9.50.

The '80 Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon is "tight" in the aroma and bouquet. Needs time to open up. After approximately 30 minutes, it becomes slightly perfumey. It's a shame to drink this wine now. I believe it will be at its best by 1990 or later and then hold 20-25 more years. $15.

YES, I WAS IMPRESSED by the quality and pricing of Inglenook wines.

"I can hear..."

but I just can't understand some words."

REFRESHING, COOL DRINKS SERVED IN GALANO'S NEW COCKTAIL LOUNGE!

Laurie & Nancy are the pretty bartender-dresses at GALANO'S Restaurant in Sunnyvale. . . you w/ find them serving refreshing, frozen Daiquiris & frozen Margaritas to customers who enjoy the convenience of stopping by GALANO'S for a "cool one." I recently enjoyed a delicious Abalone/Calamari Maitre d'Hotel which was served during luncheon. They also offer a Calamari saute a la Galano. Both are prepared in a very gourmet fashion & if one did not know it, they would believe they were dining on abalone fresh from the sea. Mike Galano offers lunch specialties at only $4.95 which are outstanding. During the entire mo. of Aug. GALANO'S w/feature a "Gold Celebration" to announce the opening of their new cocktail lounge & their newly refurbished & enlarged restaurant. The increased seating capacity & the air conditioned, cool D.R. w/separate non-smoking section all add to the dining pleasure.

SUNSET DINNERS CONTINUE TO PLEASE AT 94TH AERO SQUADRON!

No wonder the daily Sunset dinners are popular at the 94TH AERO SQUADRON Restaurant located on Coleman Ave., San Jose. They are served from 5-7 p.m. & are priced at only $8.95. Diners may select either a tender roast prime rib of beef or a fr. catch of the day. Each dinner incl. soup or salad, baked potato, rice or noodles, freshly baked bread & cheese-cake. You can't beat this. Add to this the exciting decor & nostalgia offered by this unique restaurant which is patterned after a French chateau in Toul, where the original 94th Aero Squadron was headquartered. Many of you w/appreciate the old World War I photos which adorn the walls & other unique memorabilia. Also, from the dining room windows you may view a relic of Hitler's air force & watch the planes embark & debark from the S. J. airport. Don't forget Sun. Champagne brunch for adults $11.95 served from 10-3. — See you there.

COUNTRY CLUB ATMOSPHERE AT NAN'S OF TULARCITOS IN MILPITAS!

You won't be sorry when you drive over to Milpitas & turn on the first st. off Hwy. 680. Continue on up to Country Club Dr. to the most charming restaurant in a lovely green setting. You'll discover NAN'S of Tularcitos. It is surrounded by beautiful golf greens & makes dining here all the more enjoyable. Lunch is served daily while dinner is served Mon. thru Fri. nites only. The weekends are reserved for wedding receptions & parties — it is certainly their specialty as the setting & ambience couldn't be more perfect for such occasions. The piece de resistance, however, is their Sun. champagne brunch served from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. for only $12.95 ($6.95 for child up to age 12 — child under 6 yrs. is free). Do take a leisurely drive to the country & enjoy an exciting dining experience here.

ENJOY A CREEKSIDE SETTING AT THE ECHO, LOS ALTOS!

John Bikakis offers great summer dinner specialties at his ECHO Restaurant priced at only $4.45. This is an unbelievable price, but true! These specialties incl. your choice of entree, soup or salad, potato & veg. Entree selections are as follows: breaded veal cutlet, old-fashioned chicken fried steak, crispy fried chicken, a tender N.Y. steak w/mushrooms, succulent chicken livers or a fr. filet of sole. These are very popular selections. John also offers great lunch specs. which incl. items made from chicken, steak, sirloin tips, beef stroganoff & many more. These incl. soup or salad, veg. & potato. Later in the evening Jim Murphy performs on the organ w/Clay Landrum on banjo for your dancing pleasure. Friendly Pete Pangress pours your favorite cool, refreshing libation at the bar. Stop by.

ENJOY A REFRESHING 47 OZ. MARGARITA AT THE COLEMAN STILL, SANTA CLARA!

That's right folks, The COLEMAN STILL serves a 47 oz. Margarita for those who never get enough of those delicious cold Margarita drinks that just seem to go w/this warm summer weather. Of course, if you can't quite handle that many ounces of libation, you may order the 17 oz. glass, which is certainly ample for most of us. Owner Ken Kimmey invites everyone to stop by & enjoy his hospitable bar & then linger on to enjoy a fine dinner. If you happen to pick a Wed. nite you may order catfish for only $7.95. They offer southern style filet of catfish w/hushpuppies, homemade biscuits & growin' gravy together w/fr. fruits & a trip to their 25 item salad bar. This is a lot to offer for only $7.95 & diners may also have a refill of catfish if they wish. However, no "fishy" bags to take home, please. Many other things on the menu such as Tenn. rabbit, chicken fried steak or even Australian lobster tail — this restaurant is unique in many ways. Try it.

ENJOY CAJUN AND CREOLE DELIGHTS AT THE CALIFORNIA CAFE BAR & GRILL!

Los Gatos can now boast of an authentic New Orleans style restaurant situated in Old Town on University Ave. The CALIFORNIA BAR & GRILL comes to us from the east bay where they also offer restaurants in Mill Valley, St. Helena, Walnut Creek & San Ramon. They are famous for their excellent mesquite grilled items & cajun & creole specialties. Chef Jeff Kaiser is a graduate of the Culinary Institute at Hyde Park, N.Y. & diners appreciate watching him & his crew prepare this delectable cuisine thru a glass partition. The ambience is light & airy & can be either formal or informal as one chooses. This restaurant has been newly refurbished & brightened. Sun. brunchers may enjoy the live entertainment offered by Old Town thru the windows — champagne brunch is served from 10:30 a.m. Full bar. Nitely piano music. Highly recommended.

VISIT THE BRANDYWINE DINING ROOM, SUNNYVALE HILTON HOTEL!

The extra spec. BRANDYWINE Dining Room in the Sunnyvale Hilton Hotel offers many amenities & is a marvelous continental restaurant. You'll find it full of old country charm combined w/California heritage & tradition. It can be appreciated by young & old. In add't to moderate prices, dinners incl. a custom made salad (tossed w/parmesan cheese, croutons & spec. dressing), freshly baked bread, roasted potatoes or a russet baker w/all the trimmings or rice pilaf, plus fr. vgs. d'jour. Sales reported strong at The Cottages in S.J.

The Cottages, Broadmoor/Lusk Homes' new single family homes at 1600 Hamilton Place in San Jose, is selling out of phases as fast as they open them, according to the builder. Sales have been so rapid, in fact, that Broadmoor/Lusk has stepped up its construction pace and is now building through what was scheduled for October and November of this year.

"We saw a need in the San Jose market and decided to fill it," said Frank Gootrad, director of sales and marketing for the firm. He said 1600 Hamilton Place is one of the few — and possibly the last — new home community in the central San Jose area, and until now offered only condominiums and townhomes and was surrounded by predominately multi-family housing.

"There appeared to be strong buyer demand for single family-style affordable homes in the same close-in location," Gootrad said. "The Cottages offers buyers more home value and space for their money in a central commute location that is unbeatable."

He said The Cottages is an ideal community for two-income families who cross-commute because of its convenient proximity to downtown San Jose, Silicon Valley, the Peninsula and north Bay Area business centers.

Priced from $132,500, the two- and three-bedroom homes boast attached double-car garages, front yard landscaping and fully-fenced backyards.

Broadmoor/Lusk amenities include hardwood entries, wood-burning fireplaces, textured ceilings, all-electric kitchens with ceramic tile countertops and oak cabinetry, spacious master bedroom suites with private ceramic-tiled baths, good-sized secondary bedrooms, and such energy-saving features as bronze-anodized windows, full wall and ceiling insulation and chronotherm time-set thermostats.

To visit The Cottages at 1600 Hamilton Place, take Highway 17 south to the Hamilton Ave. exit. Turn left on Hamilton Avenue and left on Leigh to the furnished models. The sales office is open daily, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., for information, call (408) 371-4001.

Educational screening

The Junior League of San Jose will conduct a free screening for learning problems in children ages 5 through 16 at Pine Hill School, 1975 Cambrianna Drive, San Jose. The evaluations, conducted by appointment, will include a range of achievement tests to outline a child's academic and perceptual weaknesses.

For an appointment, call (408) 371-5881.

League of Friends

The League of Friends, a non-profit group formed to raise funds for community events and projects of the Santa Clara County Commission on the Status of Women, has elected officers for the 1985-86 year.

They are: Enide Allison, president of Allison Bavarian Motors, Ysabel Duron, anchor of KICU-TV, Channel 36, San Jose, first vice president; Margo Landrum, president of Ms. Bs., San Jose, second vice president; Gretchen Newby of Saratoga, American Association of University Women, third vice president; Carolyn Fowler of San Jose, Plaza Bank of Commerce, secretary; Rachel Flack of Los Altos Hills, accountant and financial consulting, treasurer; Laddie W. Hughes of Palo Alto, Hughes Associates, immediate past president.

Deer Run—for the executive lifestyle

Deer Run's executive lifestyle and maintenance-free environment are two of the main buyer incentives to purchase at the new townhome community in San Jose according to the builder, the Bren Company, in announcing the opening of Phase II at the Deer Run location.

The Bren Company's master-planned community, called Frontier Village, has become very popular since its opening.

The Deer Run homes, part of the overall community, combine affordability and fine Bren craftsmanship with a central commute location to make them an unbeatable value in today's market, according to sales representative Joe Lawrence.

Priced from $111,990, the one- and two-story plans offer an excellent bond financing program to aid first-time buyers. A 10.7 percent 30-year fixed interest rate with only 5 percent down makes qualifying to own a new Deer Run home easy.

Attached two-car garages with automatic door openers and direct home access, raised-panel entry doors and bronze finished double-glazed windows highlight each of the four home designs.

The two- and three-bedroom plans, ranging from 996 to 1,440 square feet, have elegant ceramic tile entries leading to large living rooms and formal dining areas accented with woodburning fireplaces and decorator-selected light fixtures, wall-to-wall carpeting and oak cabinetry throughout. Volume ceilings highlight the living rooms of some of the plans.

Well-equipped kitchens offer direct access to the dining areas and include General Electric range and microwave oven for cooking ease. Hardwood cabinetry and luminous ceilings are situated over ceramic tile countertops completing the country kitchens.

Master bedrooms offer spacious adult retreats with large wardrobes or walk-in closets, private ceramic-tiled baths and dressing areas.

Secondary bedrooms provide plenty of space for children, guests or hobbies. And a powder room and interior laundry room add to the overall convenience of these plans.

Each home also includes a fenced rear patio area with sliding glass door entry to the living area adding another dimension to the spaciousness of the Deer Run homes.

Situated on lush park-like grounds in Blossom Valley, Deer Run is surrounded by landscaped greenbelts and a wide variety of mature trees, giving the community a serene country atmosphere that is still within close proximity to all the city conveniences and business centers.

A pool and spa provide residents and their guests with after-work relaxation, since commuting is quick to the IBM area and its new research center via Highways 101 and 17.

To visit Deer Run at Frontier Village, take Highway 101 south to Capitol Expressway. Turn right on Capitol Expressway; left on Snell Avenue; left on Branham Lane and right on Saddlebrook Drive.

The sales office is open daily from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; for information, call Joe Lawrence at (408) 629-9555.

'Campbell Cup' tourney boasts international field

From the West German state of Schleswig-Holstein to Reno, Nevada, and San Jose to Santa Rosa, 16 of the best under-19 soccer teams will gather to vye for top honors in the Campbell Cup International Youth Soccer Tournament on July 26-28.

Four fields will be used for the three-day tourney. Fields one and two are located at the Campbell Community Center (old Campbell High School) at Winchester and Campbell Avenues. Fields three and four are located at John D. Morgan Park, Budd Avenue and San Tomas Expressway.

The festivities will begin at 1 p.m. on Friday, July 26, with the Mayor of the city of Campbell presiding over the opening ceremonies. Representatives of the Chamber of Commerce will also be present, as well as state, district and league soccer officials. The first game starts at 2 p.m.

The team to beat will be Fremont Celtic, the defending Campbell Cup champion and the winner of the Northern California State Cup for the last two years. San Ramon Fury, whom Fremont defeated in last year's overtime title game, will also be among the field.

The two German teams enter with strong credentials. Suchsdorfer SV is the state champion of Schleswig-Holstein, while OSV Hannover has earned a reputation as a powerhouse squad.

A German team took the Cup title in 1982, the first year of the tournament, but American squads have triumphed since.

Following the German teams, the Turbos of Reno are making the longest trip to the tourney.

Local teams taking part include West Valley United, South Valley United and the North Valley Lions. The field will be rounded out by Santa Rosa United, Stockton United, Walnut Creek United, Petaluma United, the Napa Winemen, SAC Cyclones, Ballistic Clippers, and the Dixie Stompers.

Games will be played at 2 p.m., 4 p.m., and 6 p.m. on Friday, and 10 a.m., noon, 2 p.m., and 4 p.m. on Saturday, reducing the field to four. The two semifinal contests are scheduled for 10 a.m. Sunday, on fields one and two. The losers will meet in a consolation game at 2 p.m., with the championship match slated to follow at 4 p.m.

Budget grocery shopping

"How can I eat a well-balanced diet on a limited budget?" Good question! Not all of us are YUPPIES (Young Upwardly Mobile Professionals) with oodles to spend on groceries. But it is possible to eat well-balanced on a minimal budget. Keep a few tips in mind.

Before You Shop

- Make a skeleton menu for the week after you've highlighted specials from a couple nearby grocery stores.
- Make a list of items you need, as well as the ones on special.
- Shop on a full stomach. This will help you avoid impulse buying.

In the Store

- Compare prices! You can usually get bargains on generics or the store's own brand.

- Take advantage of the seasonal specials on fruits and vegetables: apples and artichokes in the fall, citrus and broccoli in the winter, berries in the late spring and melons and other fruits in the summer.

- Make sure bread and cereals are enriched or whole grain products. Day-old bread is available at bakery outlets and grocery stores. If you don't see it, ask.

- Milk prices vary with the type used. Use non-fat dry milk in cooking.

- Meat is the most expensive item on your shopping list. See if you can plan a couple meatless meals in your weekly menus. Here are some substitutes: tofu, cheese, pasta, eggs and dried beans.

If you would like to try some tasty bean recipes, write the California Dried Bean Advisory Board 531-D, North Alta Ave., Dinuba, CA 93618. Ask for the pamphlet: Primer on Bean Cooking.

See how much you can save on your weekly food budget by incorporating a few of these ideas in your grocery shopping plan.

Cal League 'Stars set to play at Muni

The San Jose Bees will get a day off from California League activity on Thursday... but not Phil Smith, Alonzo Powell, Yasu Kushiara and the Bees' staff.

Because the three players will be quite busy on Thursday taking part in the annual Cal League All-Star game. And the Bees' staff will be busy too, because for the second straight year San Jose will host the league's mid-season classic.

The best players the Cal League has to offer will converge at San Jose Municipal Stadium on Thursday for the league's second annual All-Star clash. Opening ceremonies will begin at 6:45 p.m. with the game to begin at 7:15 p.m.

The three Bees will be members of the North Division team that will be managed by George Mitterwald of the Modesto A's.

Mitterwald, a former catcher for the Cincinnati Reds and onetime San Jose manager, will head up the North team that includes Smith, Powell and Kushiara of the Bees; James Eppard, Kevin Stock, Mark McGwire, Brian Guinn and Damon Farmer of the A's; William Hance, John Thornton, Jeffrey Parrett, Jeffrey Reece and Cameron Walker of the Stockton Ports; Brian Hartsock of the Redwood Pioneers; and Eric Veroz and Edward Puig of the Reno Padres.

Salinas Spurs' manager R.G.

Harrison will pilot the South All-Star team that includes Stephen Murray, Michael Wishevski, Richard Moore and Mathew Hall of the Spurs; Jeffrey Brown and Christopher Chapman of the Bakersfield Dodgers; Charles Hayes, Michael Jones, Charles Corbell and Edmund Puikunas of the Fresno Giants; and Jay Bell, Philip Wilson, Robert Calley, Jone Dominguez and Douglas Palmer of the Visalia Oaks.

Prior to the Cal League All-Star game on Thursday, the California League will host a luncheon at the Italian Gardens in San Jose. The luncheon is open to the public and all of the players and managers will be present. Tickets are priced at $15 apiece and are available by calling the Cal League office at 1060 Willow St. in San Jose, or by calling 408-294-7072 or 408-977-1977.

Tickets for the Thursday 'Star game are priced at $3.50 for box seats and $2.50 for general admission and can be purchased in advance at the Cal League office, the San Jose Box Office, Willow Glen Liquors, J & J Sporting Goods and at San Jose Muni Stadium.

The Bees will sandwich the All-Star game with a pair of two-game sets. San Jose will host the Ports on Tuesday and Wednesday (July 16-17) in a pair of 7:15 p.m. games and will entertain the Pioneers at 7:15 p.m. Friday and 1:30 p.m. on Saturday.

The Bees will enter the series against Salinas just a game out of first in the North second half race.

San Jose actually was in first place by percentage points over the weekend before losing a heart-breaker to Visalia in the 12th on Sunday.

The Bees took a 5-1 lead into the ninth against the Oaks, but Visalia rallied for four runs to tie it, then scored on a sacrifice fly in the 12th to break the tie and claim a 6-5 win.

Kevin Dunton had three singles to lead a 12-hit San Jose attack in the loss. Powell singled and tripled for the Bees and Smith and Tim Hill each had two hits. Gary Jones added a double.

The loss left the Bees with an 11-8 record in the second half and a game behind Modesto. The A's, first half champs in the division, are 14-9 in the half.

San Jose had crept percentage points ahead of Modesto the night before with a 3-1 victory over the Oaks. Ake Gotoh went the distance to pick up the mound win and run his record to 3-7.

Greg Robles, Dunton and Shawn Barton each had two hits in the win and Darryl Stephens doubled. But it was a bases loaded walk by Stephens in the seventh that snapped a 1-1 tie and gave Gotoh enough of a cushion to post the win.

The Bees had opened the series against Visalia with an 8-7 win thanks to a two-run double by reserve catcher Bunny Soma. The catcher had two hits on the night to knock in three runs overall.

Robles also singled and doubled in the win and Powell, Belgee Falkner, Dunton and Barton had two hits each.

A night earlier the Bees had come up with an impressive 8-5 win over the league-leading A's.

Modesto had rallied for five runs to take a 5-0 lead in the second, but the Bees came back with a seven-run rally in the fifth to grab the lead for good.

Smith had a big four-hit night against the A's and Jim Allen, Powell, Barton and Jones had two hits each. Robles and Hill each doubled and Robles and Barton knocked in two runs apiece.

George Ferran survived that five-run second to go the distance and even his mound record at 7-7.

Serpa camp at SJCC

For the seventh consecutive summer, Lefty Serpa will bring his traveling baseball camp to San Jose City College for a week of instruction in all phases of the game.

The camp, open to players ages 9-22, will run from July 28 through August 2. Training begins each morning at 9 a.m., winding up at 3 p.m., and the batting cages will remain open until 5 p.m. for players desiring extra practice.

A highlight of this year's camp will be a daily All-Star game, featuring pitching by the attending players. Due to these games, reservations are expected to fill quickly, and interested players are advised to act immediately.

Tuition for the camp is $165 for the week, and brochures and applications may be obtained by calling (415) 799-1422.

In addition, Serpa will also be conducting camps at Sonoma State University and Chapman College.

Novice net tourney set

The deadline date is July 22 for registration to a novice tennis tournament open to northern California junior tennis players.

The tourney will be held the week of August 5-9 at a pair of locations. The 10-and-under and 12-and-under categories for boys and girls will play, and hold their signups, at the University Club of Palo Alto, while the 14-and-unders and 16-and-unders will do the same at the Ladera Oaks Swim and Tennis Club.

Entry blanks are available at both locations. For further information, call Pat Sheehan at (415) 948-0870, or Norma Smith at (415) 324-1554. The University Club Pro Shop (494-8279) and the Ladera Oaks Pro Shop (854-6661) also will supply information on the tourney.

Oldtimer's reunion

The eighth annual Softball Oldtimer's Reunion is scheduled for Friday, Jan. 17, at the Italian Gardens. For information 408-377-2392.

How to start your fitness program

By Norma Slavik

Good health, fitness and well-being take a life-long commitment — it's not just a New Year's resolution. The effort pays off, however, when you consider the possible benefits: a positive new image, a longer life, a better look, increased health and fitness.

One way to take charge of your life is to make that commitment now — it may mean a change in your lifestyle. A good start may be to consider a fitness program. What do you look for? The associate health and physical education director of the Central YMCA in San Jose, Cathi Bing, has some suggestions:

Q. What are some guidelines for selecting a spa or fitness center?

A. First evaluate your individual needs, likes and dislikes. Perhaps you enjoy swimming, basketball, racquetball and aerobics. In that case, you may want to consider a facility that offers all those things — a full-service facility. Look for a program that is individualized and can fit your specific needs.

Everyone is in a different physical condition and has specific needs. Some like to jog, others are not fond of weightlifting. Be aware of all the things that are offered and those things not available.

Look for a center that has a good track record. The YMCA has 150 years experience in health and fitness.

Be cautious of long-term programs — a center that wants to sign you up for three years or life. Watch out for gimmicks that cost a lot of money. Shop for good prices, but don't be fooled by them. Paying a monthly fee is one of the best options; many centers here in the Valley have gone bankrupt.

Check to see if the facility is clean and that it has a friendly and attentive staff. Is there a pleasant atmosphere? Notice the equipment. Is it well-maintained? Anything out of order?

The center should take each member's health history. This is most important.

Timing can be crucial. Tour the facility at the time when you plan to work out, and note if it is overcrowded at that particular time.

Q. What is the best procedure for getting started in a fitness program?

A. First check with your doctor, especially if you are 35 or older. Find out if your doctor suggests any limitations or restrictions on exercise for you. If you are in excellent physical condition, your program will differ greatly from a person who is just starting.

Be aware of your preferences. If you don't like aerobics, for example, it won't work for you.

Once you enroll in a program, go along at your own pace, regardless of what others around you are doing.

Make sure you monitor your heart rate. Find out what your target heart rate is, then take 10 seconds out to monitor it. If it's too high, slow down. If your heart rate is too low, you may want to consider picking up your pace. No matter what you are doing, you should never be too wooed to talk to the person next to you.

You may benefit from reading a good book on fitness. I recommend "Fit or Fat" by Covert Bailey and "The American Way of Life Need Not Be Hazardous to Your Health," written by Dr. John Farquhar.

Q. It's easy to get discouraged and stop if you feel sore, or get hurt. How do you help people stay on a program?

A. Always remember to warm up properly, to avoid getting hurt. Make sure you have asked questions and have all the answers before you jump on a piece of equipment or use the weights. Come with a friend who can offer support if you get discouraged.

Above all, listen to your body. If you have abnormal pain, respond immediately. It is important to begin slowly and increase gradually. Some people take three months before advancing to the next stage. If you are a little sore the next day, stretch out and walk. If you have a question, ask your instructor for an appointment so you get the time to have your question answered adequately.

You may have to slow down, but don't give up. For minimum benefits, exercise is suggested at least three times a week. For increased benefits, others say it takes four or five days. A variety of activity is beneficial — don't concentrate all five days on one type.

Q. What do you need to know about the equipment prior to using it?

A. Check to see that the machines are in top condition. There should be little or no dust on the chains, and the upholstery should be well maintained. All the machines should be working. You don't want the machine you work on to be out three weeks for repairs. Note if the center has a maintenance service contract and can take care of their equipment.

Q. Should you eat before or after exercising?

A. That depends on the individual, and on the kind of food and exercise.

If you work out at 6 p.m., consider a small meal at dinner. Give yourself time to digest a meal. Generally speaking, it may not be good for certain people to eat prior to or after their workout. Take the common sense approach.

Ad's musical message: 'Don't Drive Drunk'

DODGE AND THE U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT) have joined forces to help produce an anti-drunk driving rock video and public service announcement starring Stevie Wonder.

The youth-oriented five-minute video and 30- and 60-second PSA's feature Wonder singing "Don't Drive Drunk" from his Grammy and Oscar winning motion picture sound track album, "Woman in Red."

The anti-drunk driving campaign is produced by Gasp! Productions and directed by Bob Giraldi, who is best known for directing commercials and music videos starring Michael Jackson.

Funding for the production is through the Advertising Council, with DOT and the Dodge Division of Chrysler Corporation designating portions of their Ad Council contributions to the project. This private-public sector partnership is a major part of the Ad Council's "Drinking and Driving Can Kill a Friendship" campaign.

"Serious accidents caused by drunk drivers are one of this country's most pressing social problems," said John B. Damoose, general marketing manager for Dodge.

"IN 1984, 23,000 people were killed and hundreds of thousands more injured in drinking-related accidents. Since young people are especially prone to peer pressure when it comes to consuming alcohol, we hope these videos and spots will deliver a message and help save lives."

The video storyline features seven young people out on the town for an evening of fun. As they drive through the city streets and dance in a night club, Stevie Wonder is seen singing the title song, which includes the chorus "Ah, don't drive drunk. Don't drive drunk. No, don't drive drunk..."

Shorter PSA's will be spun off from the video. In addition to the seven principal characters, the cast includes more than 175 extras. Shooting took place at the Roxy Theater on Hollywood's Sunset Strip and at a private residence in Los Angeles.

Spots and videos are scheduled to begin airing May 23 nationwide on more than 800 television stations and rock video outlets. On the same day, the productions will be previewed for the public and news media on a huge video screen in Washington, D.C.

Wonder's music video will be the first ever to carry a public service message and will air regularly on MTV, which is the number one medium on the nation's college campuses. It will also be broadcast on other popular video programs, including "Friday Night Videos," "Night Flight" and "Solid Gold."

THE NATIONAL Association of Broadcasting has also adopted the campaign for its member TV and radio stations in 1985. NAB is producing and distributing a special documentary on the making of the video hosted by Casey Kasem.

INNOVATIVE — The 1985 Chrysler Laser XE, an aerodynamically designed 2-door hatchback, combines high-tech electronics, turbo power and front-wheel drive.

Stevie Wonder, center, stars in the new safety-oriented rock video and public service announcement featuring his hit song, "Don't Drive Drunk."

REAL LIFE ASSURANCE FOR YOUR TURBOCHARGER

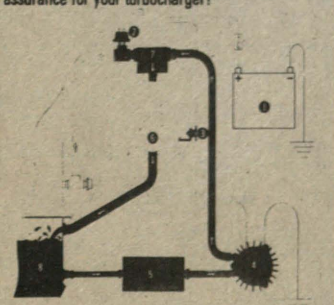

Introducing TURBO-LIFE, the first truly effective way to eliminate the cause of over 90% of all turbo failures: heat buildup in the turbo bearing housing after engine shutdown.

When your engine stops running, the cooling and lubricating oil ceases to flow through the turbo's bearing housing. Heat from the still red-hot turbine side transfers into the bearing housing, raising its temperature to a point where motor oil "cooks" or turns to carbon. Thus, the residual oil around the turbo bearing causes layers of hard carbon to be deposited to the extent that lubricating oil passages become clogged and bearing failure results. A second possibility is that a small piece of carbon may dislodge and pass through the bearing, also causing failure.

There are currently several versions of "accumulator bottle" type oilers on the market, and while their intent is good, they offer little help in practice. In order for any after-shutdown oiler to be effective, it must be capable of supplying 1 1/2 to 2 gallons of oil flow to the turbo after shutdown. Accumulator bottles are capable of supplying less than one quart, some even less than a pint! Also, since accumulator bottles fill themselves automatically while the engine is running, they can actually deprive the turbo bearing of part of its oil supply during the first few critical minutes after startup. Under choke-induced high-rpm idle conditions, the turbo will be spinning without benefit of lubrication, causing significant reduction in life expectancy.

Our new TURBO-LIFE system employs a 12-volt driven pump, energized on engine shutdown and temperature controlled so that it continues to supply filtered and cooled oil FOR AS LONG AS REQUIRED to reduce the turbo bearing temperature to a safe level. In addition, the system's shuttle valve assembly prevents oil in the turbo's feed line from draining back to the engine, thereby assuring instantaneous lubrication to the critical bearing area on startup.

TURBO-LIFE... the only really effective life assurance for your turbocharger!

OPERATING PRINCIPLE

1. Electrical power from battery 2. Is controlled by pressure switch 3. and temperature sensor 4. In operation, pump 5. which keeps oil flowing through filter 6. cooler, controls 7. the shuttle valve 8. 9. Shuttle valve assembly 10. prevents engine system and auxiliary system from draining back to the engine 11. 12. Oil flows from and is returned to the oil pan.

Vets, newcomers alike ready for Key

By Dick Sparrer

Jeff Delte was born in 1955. The same year, Howard Kaeding was driving in his first Johnny Key Classic at the old San Jose Speedway. But on Saturday night, super modified racing fans won't notice the 22-year difference in the ages of the two local drivers. Because that difference will evaporate when the two start side-by-side in the 32nd running of the prestigious Key Classic.

For the 52-year-old Kaeding, the Key start will be the 28th of his career. Three times the Campbell speedster has won the midsummer classic.

For the 30-year-old Delte, on the other hand, it will be his first Key start. And the San Jose driver has plenty of company in his role as a Key first-timer.

Roger Curl, Rod Spencer and Blair Pine will join Delte as first-time Key starters on Saturday night at the San Jose Fairgrounds Speedway. But don't get the idea that it's an inexperienced field.

Because along with the four newcomers, there are four Key veterans.

Along with Kaeding, three other drivers have been around for plenty of Key starts — Mike Sargent, Nick Rescino and Nick Ringo.

Sargent, whose win last Saturday night was his second straight and fifth of the year, will start on the pole for the 32nd Key thanks to his spot atop the points chart. Sargent, who leads the pack with 455 points, will start his 15th straight Key and the 16th of his career. He won the Classic in 1981.

Chuck Miller (385 points) of San Jose will start alongside Sargent on the front row with Rescino (366) and Joe McGee (268) in the second row.

Rescino is also starting his 16th Key race. The Sunnyvale super modified star is the defending champ in the event and is the only five-time Key winner.

John Viel (284), the 1983 Key champion, and Rich Voss (249) of Cupertino, last year's runner-up, will start in the third row with Jim Perry jr. (245) and Scott Luhdorff (228) of San Jose in the fourth row.

Ringo (205) will be in the fifth row to start his 15th straight Key and the 16th of his career. He'll start alongside Gary Willey (202) of San Jose.

Kaeding (154) and Delte (118) will start in the sixth row with Jerry Freitas (101) of Santa Clara and Paul Dias (77) of San Jose in the seventh row.

Curl (72) will take the green flag in the eighth row along with Dwane Larson (55) of San Jose with Spencer (48) and Jerry Cecil (47) in the ninth row and Pine (26) and Art McCarthy jr. (8) of San Jose in the 10th row.

The final two Key starters will come out of the semi-main the night of the race. Gates will open at 4 p.m. Saturday night for the annual Key.

Sargent is coming off of two straight feature wins heading into the Key. And, since he won the Beard Classic earlier in the year, a victory on Saturday night could give him the second leg in his chase of the $10,000 bonus that goes to the driver who could win all three races in the Triple Crown series at the Fairgrounds.

Sargent forced a three-way tie for the career win record at the Fairgrounds Speedway with his victory last Saturday. The win was the 33rd of his career to tie him with Rescino and Viel on the all-time list.

The San Jose flash grabbed the lead for good on the restart of an 11th lap restart and led the rest of the way to claim the win in the 25-lap feature. But the win didn't come easy.

Cecil led the first two laps from his spot on the pole before Viel took over to lead three laps. Ringo led from sixth through the 11th laps, but then the flags began to wave.

Miller, Delte and Perry were involved in an 11th lap pile-up and Kaeding, who had pulled all the way from 17th to fourth in the field, spun out while taking evasive action to drop to the back of the pack.

The yellow flag flew, but on the restart Ringo spun trying to beat Sargent through the first turn. McGee turned over trying to miss Ringo to bring out another yellow. Sargent grabbed the lead on the second restart.

Rescino moved into second by the 16th lap and was closing in on Sargent with three laps to go when Earle Stanton of San Jose stalled on the front straight to bring out another yellow flag.

Rescino and Sargent were in a mad dash for the lead on the restart when Rescino spun in the turn. Ringo slammed into Rescino to bring out the red flag.

With Ringo out of action and Rescino in the back of the pack, Sargent stormed in front on the restart and cruised to a win.

Freitas ended up second in the feature for his best finish in four years and Delte was third to mark his best career finish at the Fairgrounds.

Kaeding fought his way from the back of the pack to finish fourth to secure a Key spot. Dias, Spencer and Pine also claimed Key berths by finishing fifth, sixth and seventh — all career bests.

Cecil nailed eight in the feature followed by Viel, Rescino, Stanton, Miller, Ringo, Larson, rookie Keith Nafziger of San Jose, McGee, Perry and Louis Carlotta of Sunnyvale.

Perry had posted his sixth quick time (13.821) of the season in qualifying and Stanton won his first career trophy dash (42.78) with Sargent second, Perry third and Rescino fourth.

Kaeding won his heat with Gary Nelson of San Jose second, Curl third, Mark Sargent of San Jose fourth and Dave Thompson of San Jose fifth, and he came back later to win the 12-lap semi-main with McGee second, Willey third, Wayne Katen of San Jose fourth and Luhdorff fifth.

Luhdorff had won the night's final heat with Mike Sargent second, Willey third, Rescino fourth and Pat Holton of San Jose fifth, and Luhdorff also won a heat with Cecil second, Mike Sargent third, Rescino fourth and Ringo fifth.

Willey was a heat winner with Larson second, Miller third, Holton fourth and Perry fifth and McGee took a heat win with Dan Smith second, Katen third, Ralph Ringo of San Jose fourth and Nick Foster of San Jose fifth.

In the night's C-race, Roger Fostick jr. was a winner with Chuck McCurley of San Jose second, Ramon Perez of Mountain View third, Thompson fourth and Glenn Bonnema fifth.

In stock car action the same night, Ken Haskell of San Jose rolled to a feature win, but it was Robert Miller of San Jose clinching the track championship.

Miller finished third in the main to pick up enough points to edge out runner-up Mike Petrucci in the race for the title. Miller leads by 91 points with only 90 points still available in the final two races of the year.

Miller tops the pack with 449 points. Petrucci is second at 358 with Mark Barron of Sunnyvale third at 263, Larry Lundin of San Jose fourth at 259 and Haskell fifth at 203.

Haskell moved into fifth on the charts thanks to his first career win at the Fairgrounds.

The 21-year-old stock car pilot took the lead on the fifth lap of the 20-lap feature and never looked back. He ended up winning by seven seconds, the equivalent of almost a half a lap.

Johnny Brazil jr. ended up second in the main with Miller third, Barron fourth, Raymond Keldsen fifth, Ben Scorsur sixth, Steve Haskell of San Jose seventh, David Amelia of San Jose eighth, Petrucci ninth and Tom Certo of Santa Clara 10th.

Bells tabbed state's top school

Talk about being the last to know.

It wasn't until Bellarmine Prep baseball coach Don Ardisone flipped open his copy of USA Today on June 28 that school administrators learned that Cal-Hi Sports had designated Bellarmine as the state's large school of the year, for its outstanding athletic achievements.

In what Alumni Director Dick Pfaff called "our best all-around year in many years," the Bells won Central Coast Section championships in cross country, swimming and baseball, as well as West Catholic Athletic League titles in football, soccer and tennis. The water polo team also won the Santa Teresa championship.

The football team, under the leadership of first-year coach Mike Janda, brought an undefeated record into the CCS title game with St. Francis, only to lose a narrow 5-3 nod.

The Bells also finished the season as Cal-Hi's top-ranked baseball team. Serra of San Mateo, whom the Bells defeated in the CCS finals, placed second.

The oldest high school in the state, Bellarmine was founded in 1851 by the Jesuits. Of the 1220 boys currently enrolled in the school, over 700 participate in interscholastic sports.

Collett, Davies set nat'l records

Setting a national record is quite an accomplishment for any athlete.

But to set two national records in one event? Why, that's unheard of, right? Wrong.

Because that's just what Lisa Collett of the Cupertino Yearlings managed to do over the week of July 2-7 at the TAC U.S. National track and field championships in New York.

Collett set two separate national standards in the midget (10-11 year old) division at the prestigious track meet, both of them in the five-event pentathlon.

Collett set a new standard in the pentathlon with 3,267 points. And in the process, she set a new record in her age group in the long jump at 17-11.

But Collett wasn't the only Yearling setting national records at the meet. Because her teammate, Malcolm Davies, set a new national mark in the triathlon in the bantam (nine-and-under) age division.

Davies rolled up 855 points in the three-event triathlon to set his record. He went 4-5 in the high jump, hit the tape at 14.7 in the 100 and heaved the shot put 25-11 on his way to the victory.

Davies also was second in the individual high jump at 4-2, third in the long jump at 14-7½ and anchored the fourth place 4x100 relay, teaming with Kuros Charney, John Masegian and Jason Yingling to run a 4:42.16.

Collett, meanwhile, was also picking up four medals for the Yearlings at the national meet.

She won the pentathlon with her 3,267 points — going 17-11 in the long jump, 29-0 in the shot put, 4-6½ in the high jump, 13.3 in the 80 meter hurdles and 2:41 in the 800 meters.

She also won the long jump by matching her record-setting distance of 17-11 and she picked up a second in the high jump at 4-7. Collett was also fourth in the 200 meters at 27.58 and was named the outstanding athlete in her age group.

Roslyn Mack added a second in the 400 meters at 57.49 in the girl's youth (12-13) division with Joslyn Mack finishing sixth at 60.29. Matt Dillon was third in the boy's youth division in the 3,000 meter racewalk at 16:17.5 with Mike Gabriel fourth in the high jump at 5-6.

Tammy Whitaker was third in the 1,500 meter racewalk for girls at 8:53.32 with Larissa Madger fourth at 8:56.3 in the bantam class.

Tommy Mejia, Jeff Shioya, Greg Harkless and Darius Charney joined forces for a fifth place finish in the 4x400 relay in the midget division for boys.

In the young men (16-17) age group, Kirk Hendrickson was fourth in both the shot put at 46-0½ and the discus at 144-7.

Aquamaids host Junior Outdoor meet

Just back from an impressive second-place showing in the Spanish Synchronized Swimming Open in Majorca, the Santa Clara Aquamaids will attempt to climb one more rung on the ladder when they host the United States Junior Outdoor Synchronized Swimming Championships, July 17-21 at Santa Clara's International Swim Center.

Over 280 top national performers are expected to compete at the five-day event, which is sponsored by McDonalds Corporation.

Among the national contenders will be Betsy Visniski, Karen Miele, Kathy Augenstein and Adrienne Lehman from Ohio State (ranked seventh nationwide), and Leslie Tackett of the Denver Tarpons (ranked 13th).

In addition to the Aquamaids, local teams will include the San Francisco Merionettes and the Walnut Creek Aquanats.

A relatively new sport, synchronized swimming resembles water gymnastics. Solo swimmers or teams of up to eight swimmers perform graceful underwater routines to music.

The competition is open to the public, and free until the finals day, Sunday, July 21. That day, tickets will cost $3 for adults and $1 for children, available at the door.

The festivities will kick off at 7 a.m. on Wednesday, July 17, with preliminary figure competition and official selection for preliminary duets. Thursday will feature more of the same, plus a banquet scheduled for 8 p.m.

Friday will kick off with solo and duet semifinal action, followed by preliminary team competition. Saturday's activities will begin at 8 a.m. and continue through until 5 p.m. with semifinal trio and team competition.

The finals are penciled in for Sunday, with the solo, duet, trio and team routines winding up. Awards for all final events will be presented at 8 p.m.

'Maids claim silver in international meet

The Santa Clara Aquamaids defeated nine national teams in Mallorca, Spain, late last month to win the silver medal at the International Invitation Swim Meet.

The Canadian team took the gold. The eight-member club from Santa Clara were representing the United States, by invitation of the U.S. National Olympic Committee.

En route to their second-place finish, the Aquamaids defeated teams from Germany, Italy, Switzerland, Holland, Scotland, Great Britain, Spain, Egypt and Sweden.

As 12-year olds, the same team was invited to perform an exhibition in the American Cup competition in Los Angeles.

The eight-member team consists of Melissa Downey and Dawn Graybill of San Jose; Shannon Green, Heather Simmons and Patti Lynn of Santa Clara; Michelle Nance and Carrie Shumway of Sunnyvale; and Ginny Cohn of Mountain View, Chris Carver of Saratoga, the team's head coach, and Pudge Graybill, the manager, accompanied the team.

Two team members, Lynn and Simmons, will represent the country as a duet entry in the 13-14 age group at the Pan Pacific International Championship at the University of Hawaii from July 29-Aug. 5.

You don't have to drink to have a drinking problem.

If someone you care about is a problem drinker then you have a drinking problem. You see, alcoholics and people dependent on other drugs don't just hurt themselves. They hurt the people around them, too.

What's worse, alcohol and drug dependent people rarely seek out help on their own.

That's why it's up to their family and friends to seek out help for them. And that's what the Phoenix Program is all about. Helping.

So, if there's someone with a drinking or drug abuse problem in your life, call the Phoenix Program 24-hour Helpline. It's confidential. It works.
